South Motors GEN-NEXT JAM at Pinecrest Gardens

Through the generosity of the John S. and James L. Knight Foundation and our title sponsor South Motors, we are proud to announce that three of our 2016/2017 jazz series artists will participate in a special program on the Sundays following their Saturday night performances entitled Gen-Next Jam. South Motors Gen-Next Jam is an educational initiative where renowned jazz artists mentor gifted students from the New World School of the Arts High School Jazz Program under the direction of Jim Gaisor. These workshops are open to the general public for observation free of charge with general park admission.

Workshops start at 1:00 p.m.

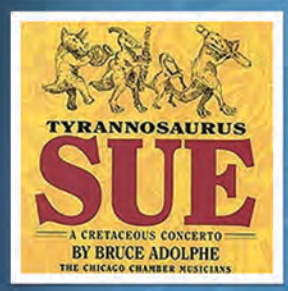
FAMILY FUN CONCERTS

Presented by Orchestramiami



Tyrannosaurus Sue: A Cretaceous Concerto
Friday, November 4 at 8:00 p.m.
Travel back 67 million years and discover the life and times of Tyrannosaurus Sue as she competes with a tricky Troodon, chases a Parasaurolophus, and battles with a menacing Triceratops!

Visions of America
Friday January 6 at 8:00 p.m.
Journey across the American landscape through the eyes of different composers. The concert will be a side-by-side concert with members of the Greater Miami Youth Symphony and feature works by Grofé, Dvorak, Copland, Gershwin and more.

Zephyronia
Friday, February 3 at 8:00 p.m.
Introduce your children to the wind section of the orchestra in Bruce Adolphe's witty piece. On the distant planet Zephyronia, wind power is the solution when Flora and Flutter teach the emperor that there is more than one way to run a planet. Children learn about energy conservation and alternative energy sources.

Little Red Riding Hood
Friday, March 3 at 8:00 p.m.
This classic fairy tale, performed by three professional opera singers and members of Orchestra Miami, teaches children about one of the most basic rules of reason - don't talk to strangers!.

The Rambling String Band
Friday, March 31 at 8:00 p.m.
Introduce kids to America's original string music with Matthew Sabatella and the Rambling String Band! A popular favorite, your children will have a rollicking, foot-stomping good old time!
